0915 hrs : Session 1 : THE ROLE OF THE STATE IN TODAY'S ECONOMY

Driven by globalisation, both Germany and India in recent years have introduced reforms towards more privatisation and liberalisation. What options does the state have to influence economic performance? Which tasks of the state are of primary importance today, and which tasks will it have to leave to other actors? Will this reduce or limit the governments' room for maneuver?

Speakers:

1. Professor Stefan A Schirm
Professor of Political Science, Chair for International Relations, Ruhr University of Bochum

2. Arun Maira
Chairman, The Boston Consulting Group India, Mumbai

Address: Ambika Soni
Minister of Tourism and Culture, Republic of India

1000 hrs : Session 2 : COOPERATION BETWEEN THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND THE STATE

Changing expectations regarding the role of the corporation in society and the increasing international activities of companies require closer coordination between companies, governments and international organisations. To what extent do companies have to deal with political and social issues? Can partnerships between the private sector and the state provide better public services? Where are the limits for cooperation between private sector and the state?

Speaker: Dr. Jamshed J Irani
Member, Board of Directors, Tata Steel Ltd., Mumbai

Tea and Coffee break

Discussion

1215 hrs : Lunch : Reiterstube

1000 hrs: Session 3: SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY IN THE INDIAN AND GERMAN CONTEXT

The social gap and uneven growth rates in India are well-known. However, even in European societies the gap between the rich and poor is increasing rather than decreasing and parts of the population do not participate in the successes of globalisation. Are "inclusive growth" programmes a solution? Who carries the responsibility for the socially disadvantaged? What is the role of today's youth?
